Once you have completed the RSA there is no need to do it again. This certificate does not expire even when the unit code changes through AQTF. If you need a replacement copy, the office can provide one for you for an administration fee.

There are four elements for this unit of competency:

Element	Performance Criteria

3.0 Who needs Responsible Service of Alcohol training?

In some circumstances, volunteers do not require RSA training. However, they must be under the supervision of a person who does have RSA training. It is the responsibility of the licensee to make sure someone is available to supervise any volunteers who do not have RSA training.

4.0 Purpose of RSA Training

- ✚ Serve alcohol responsibly for the benefit of the community
- ✚ Reduce risk of harm from alcohol consumption
- ✚ Protect those most at risk

5.0 Harm Minimisation

The purpose of Harm Minimisation is to address alcohol and other drug related issues by reducing their harmful effects on individuals and society. RSA is one way to achieve this.

6.0 Impacts of Excessive Drinking

Excessive drinking can be an issue for those venues or events where alcohol is sold or served, and it is important to be able to identify and address issues related to excessive drinking or other alcohol-related issues.

6.1 Costs of alcohol misuse

In monetary terms, the cost of alcohol misuse to Queensland is estimated to be $1.4 billion per year. To the Australian community, the cost is estimated to be $4.7 billion per year. It is estimated that 84% of these costs ($3.8 billion) are potentially preventable. The following tables represent several public interest reasons for implementing responsible service of alcohol practices.

Negative Impact	Cost to wider community
Productivity	$4 Billion due to reduced workforce: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ Reduced workforce due to premature mortality ✚ Sickness ✚ Absenteeism ✚ Reduced output by workers due to being hungover
Traffic Accidents	$2.4 Billion due to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ Fatalities ✚ Serious injury ✚ Vehicle damage ✚ Property damage
Criminal Justice System	$3.1 Billion represents: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ Police work ✚ Court costs ✚ Jails and victims of crime compensation ✚ Public disorder ✚ Violence ✚ Family disruption

Local Council Area Costs	Impacted directly and indirectly from: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ Nuisance including anti-social behaviour ✚ Waste management / Cleaning costs ✚ Vandalism ✚ Negative impact to community health

Excess alcohol consumption may also impact the following categories:

- ✚ Local neighborhood and community
- ✚ Premises and staff
- ✚ The night-time economy
- ✚ Customers
- ✚ Physical and mental health of individuals
- ✚ Productivity of individuals

Excess alcohol consumption may also impact relationships on:

- ✚ Family
- ✚ Friends
- ✚ Colleagues

Government agencies impacted by the excessive consumption of alcohol include:

- ✚ Local police
- ✚ Health facilities
- ✚ Road authorities
- ✚ Local councils

Negative Outcomes of excessive alcohol consumption	Responses by Government agencies
Violence	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ State government, police and emergency services respond to an incident. ✚ Violence increases the risk of injury to residents and has a negative impact on the perceptions of safety and reputation of the local area.
Property Damage	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ Local governments are expected to repair damage to public property that is not owned by the state government. ✚ Owners of the damaged private property will be required to repair, replace or lose that item.
Anti-social Behaviour	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ State government, police, emergency services, local governments' local laws or security staff of a venue's security staff will respond to the incident or threat. ✚ The behaviour increases the risk of injury and develops a negative perception in the community.

6.2 Alcohol's effects on the body

Alcohol and mental health

Alcohol can have a big impact on our mental health. It's a depressant, so it slows your body down and changes the chemical makeup in your brain.

For example, it can change your:

- mood
- energy levels
- sleeping patterns
- concentration
- memory.

Alcohol can also reduce inhibitions and impact on decision making. This can lead us to making decisions that we wouldn't normally make while sober.

It's also linked with:

- increased risk-taking
- increased aggression
- unsafe sex practices
- self harm and suicide in people who may already be going through a tough time
- binge drinking (drinking a lot in one session).

People who are experiencing a mental health difficulty may use alcohol to try and manage tough times or lift their mood. This might feel helpful in the short term however it can end up making us feel worse, and make things harder in the long run.

Alcohol and physical health

Alcohol can impact on your physical health in a number of ways.

Short term effects include:

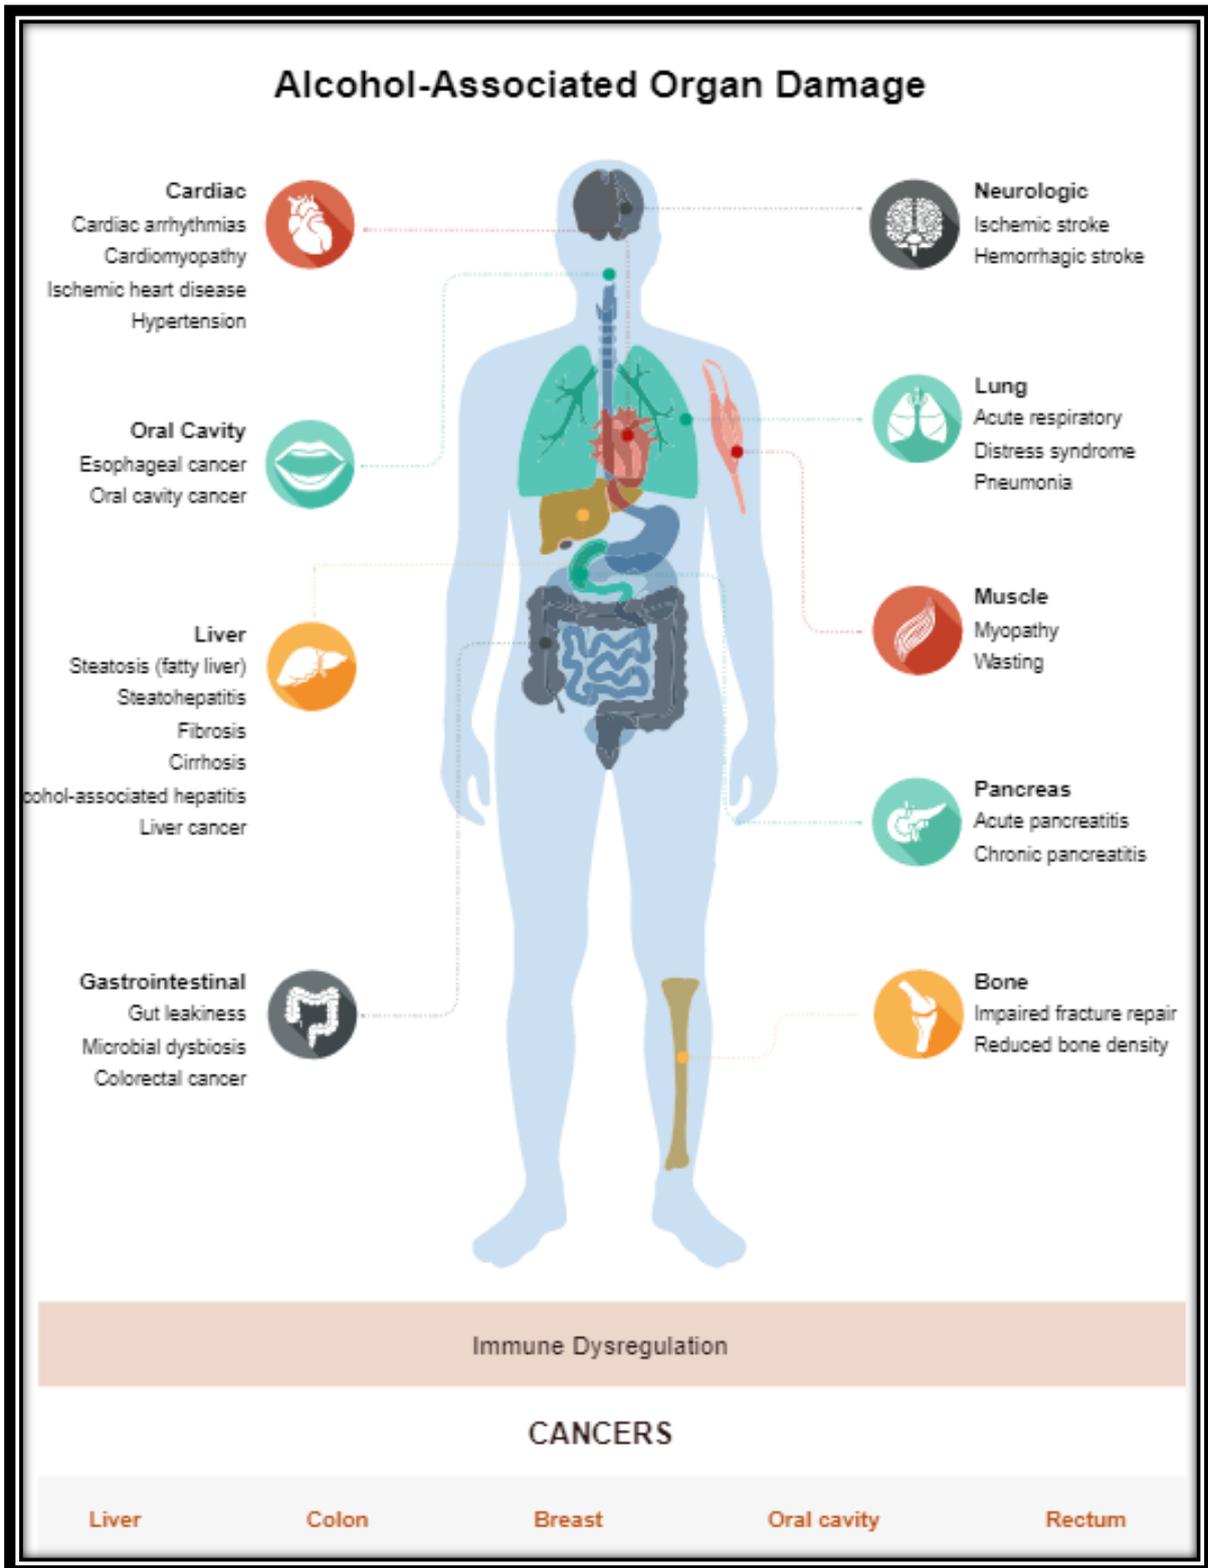

- difficulty sleeping
- lower immunity
- trouble concentrating
- difficulty getting motivated.

Long term alcohol use can cause additional problems like:

- high blood pressure
- heart disease
- brain damage
- liver disease as well as different kinds of cancers.

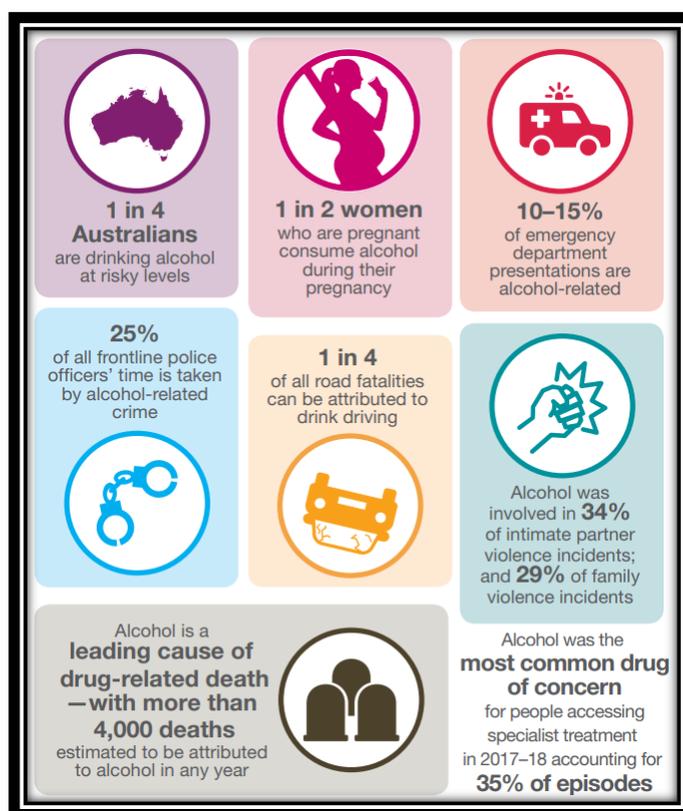

If you're pregnant, drinking alcohol can lead to serious health problems for you and your baby.

7.0 Factors related to alcohol effects

Alcohol affects everyone, and the effects begin with the first drink. The way alcohol affects people depends on many different factors including:

- ✚ Weight
- ✚ Age
- ✚ Gender
- ✚ Water and food consumption
- ✚ Medication/Illicit substance
- ✚ Tolerance

7.1 Particular groups of customers who are most at risk from alcohol consumption

- ✚ People affected by the consumption of illicit and other drugs
- ✚ Pregnant women
- ✚ Young people

8.0 Government Initiatives and Education Campaigns

The government regulates the liquor industry to benefit the community and minimise harm. Various strategies, Government initiatives and education campaigns to minimise the harm from alcohol use and abuse have been implemented by both the State and Federal Government. The requirement for training in Providing Responsible Service of Alcohol is one of the ways the government promotes a safer environment. Some examples of other campaigns are detailed below:

Campaign / Initiative	Purpose/Message
	If you are going to drink, make arrangements to get home safely and avoid riving the morning after. Try using a #LiftLegend. Your #LiftLegend is anyone below the legal BAC limit who can get you home safely after you've been drinking
	The Department of Transport and Main Roads launched a drinking campaign titled "Drinking? Never Drive". The campaign is designed to be hard hitting and shock potential drink drivers out of compliancy by showing serious and unforgettable consequences of drink driving and making drivers aware that these consequences are in their hands with the choice they make.
	"It's okay to say nay" campaign was launched by DrinkWise in November 2022 across television, radio, digital and social media. This message is designed to help to ensure important educational messages regarding alcohol consumption from minors reach parents of teenagers aged 14-17 across the country.

Campaign / Initiative	Purpose/Message
	“Break the habit campaign” aims to highlight that it takes only around 66 days, on average, to form a habit – roughly the amount of time many Australians spent in lockdown.
	“Schoolies Supports Initiative”, this is designed to bring together organisations that believe young people are valuable and important. One of the most well-known campaigns is the Red Frogs. Red Frogs are a volunteer group that provide direct relief, safety and support to young people during Schoolies/Leavers Weeks across 16 locations.

9.0 Time and Effect

The main factor in removing alcohol from the body and lowering your Blood Alcohol Concentration (BAC) is time. The kidneys and lungs remove small amounts of alcohol through urine and breath leaving the liver to breakdown the rest. It is a slow process. A healthy liver will breakdown and remove less than one standard drink per hour or a BAC rate of 0.015 per hour (Transport NSW).

Having a shower, drinking water, coffee or raw egg whites may make you cleaner, feel better or worse, but will not lower your BAC.

Have a look at these examples from Transport for New South Wales and consider how long it can be before a person is ready to drive after having a few drinks:

EXAMPLE 1:

Ben
Ben is 19 and holds a P2 licence with a zero alcohol limit. He started drinking at 6pm and had 10 schooners of full strength beer (15 standard drinks) over 6 hours. At midnight his blood alcohol concentration was 0.17. He got a cab home.

It took more than 11 hours before Ben's BAC was back to zero. The next day Ben was not able to drive his friends to the beach for an early morning surf. He had to wait until almost noon before he could drive.

10 schooners from 6pm to midnight
15 standard drinks BAC = 0.17

EXAMPLE 2:

Melita
Melita is 18 and holds a P1 licence with a zero alcohol limit. She started drinking at 10pm and had 6 mixer (9 standard) drinks over 4 hours. At 2am her blood alcohol concentration was 0.24. She stayed the night at a friend's house.

It took more than 16 hours before Melita's BAC was back to zero. Melita had to get her mum to drive her to work that morning. She had to wait until 6pm that night before she could drive.

10.0 Legislation Matters

Alcohol is a drug. Given the potential and real effects of alcohol abuse, there needs to be controls in place to promote community wellbeing. The sale and supply of alcohol is a highly regulated industry which can carry heavy consequences for those who do not comply. For this reason, it is essential that every person who either sells or serves alcohol is aware of their legislative requirements and adheres to the governing regulation in their State or Territory. The Liquor Act is designed to meet both the needs of the community and those who distribute alcohol. It is designed to do this in a way which will minimise potential harm to the community from alcohol abuse.

The main purpose of the Act is to:

- ✚ Minimise harm from alcohol abuse and associated violence.
- ✚ Minimise adverse effects on the health and safety of members of the public.
- ✚ Minimise adverse effects on the amenity of the community.

The Statement of Attainment – Provide Responsible Service of Alcohol (RSA) is a nationally recognised competency and covers the requirements of the Liquor Act. It is necessary to understand the regulations for each state and/or territory you are working in as each state and territory has their own regulations for the sale and supply of alcohol. State authorities manage the implementation of the Act by setting the Regulations, Penalties and Fines, monitoring compliance and managing licensing.

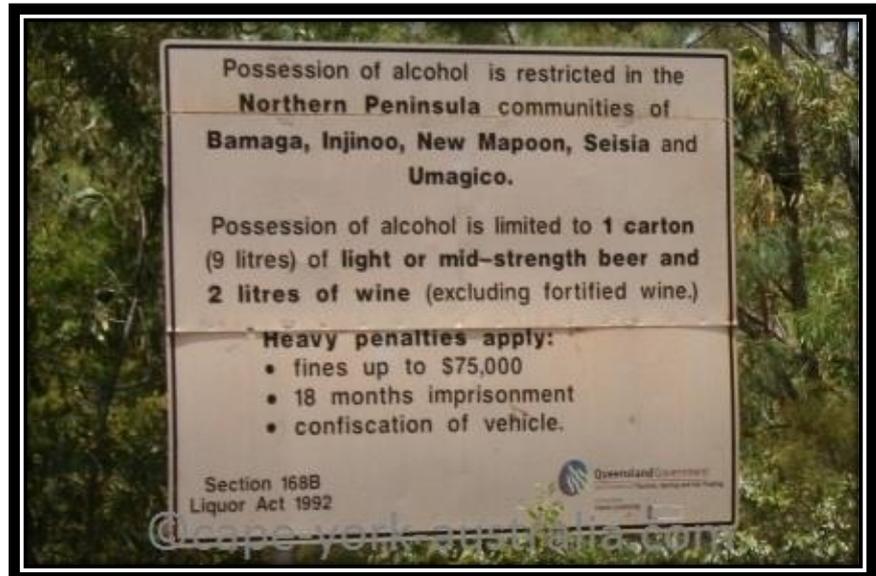

The following table outlines the state/territory, Legislative Act, Legislative Regulation, and governing body:

State/Territory	Legislative Act	Legislative Regulation	Governing Body
Queensland	Liquor Act 1992	Liquor Regulation Act 2002	The Office of Liquor & Gaming Regulation (OLGR)
New South Wales	Liquor Act 2007 & Gaming and Liquor Administration Act 2007	Liquor Regulation 2018	Liquor & Gaming NSW and the Independent Liquor & Gaming Authority
South Australia	Liquor Licensing Act 1997	n/a	Office of Liquor and Gambling Commissioner (OLGC)
Victoria	Liquor Control Reform Act 1998 (the Act)	Liquor Control Reform Regulations 2009	The Victorian Liquor Commission
Western Australia	Liquor Control Act 1988	Liquor Control Regulations 1989	The Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries (DLGSC)
Tasmania	Liquor Licensing Act 1990	Liquor Licensing Regulations 2016	Tasmanian Liquor and Gaming Commission
Northern Territory	Liquor Act 2019 Stronger Futures in the Northern Territory Act 2012	Liquor Regulations 2019	Northern Territory Licensing Commission

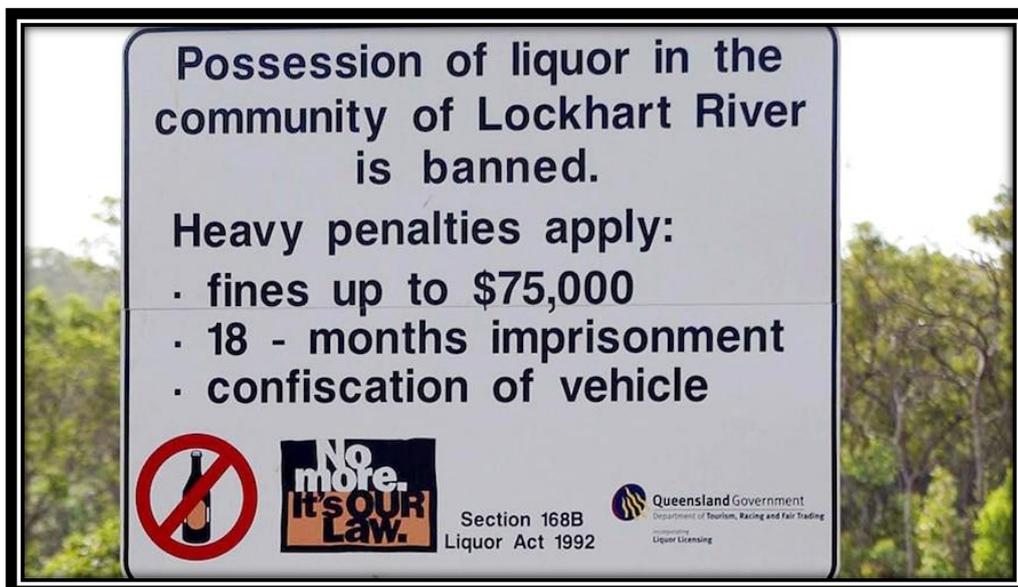

10.1 Catchment Areas

It is important to note that some indigenous communities may have local regulations specific to their community. These restrictions include public places, private homes and roads passing through those communities. Failure to comply with these local restrictions is breaking the law and heavy penalties apply.

It is important to understand the identified catchment areas which could provide a source of alcohol within a few hours travel of the restricted communities. Staff working in licensed premises in these catchment areas need to be aware of how their liquor licence may support the restricted sale of alcohol to persons who may be entering restricted areas.

Information about community alcohol restrictions in QLD can be found at the Queensland Government website under Australian and Torres Strati Islander Peoples, Driving and Transport, Community alcohol restrictions.

11.0 Sale and Supply of Liquor: What is the difference?

Sale of Liquor	Supply of Liquor
It is the act of selling to the individual.	Relates to the person who ends up with the alcohol
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ You can see the person and make a decision about serving them. ✚ You can physically check for ID. ✚ You can observe signs of intoxication. ✚ Are you comfortable selling them a drink? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ This is more difficult to manage. ✚ It is not always obvious who the drink is going to. ✚ Do you know if the alcoholic drinks are being passed onto a minor or a person who is intoxicated. ✚ Venue House Policy strategy example: limit the number of drinks served to one person per transaction

11.1 Package Alcohol

When alcohol is delivered as packaged alcohol the same conditions for sale and service within the venue apply. Alcohol must not be sold or supplied to a minor, unduly intoxicated person or a disorderly person. Follow instructions as indicated in your house policy and check ID to verify the age of the recipients as you would at the bar or bottle shop.

Penalties apply if you serve alcohol to someone who supplies it to a minor. Check house policy for direction on managing supply. It is important to note that packaged alcohol can now be delivered to a private household, however house policy still applies.

12.0 House Policy

One of the most powerful ways of reducing potential harm and promoting compliance with QLD liquor laws is to have a house policy.

A house policy should reflect the principles implemented by the venue as a framework for both patrons and staff in understanding the responsible serving practices adopted by the venue.

Each venue is required to create their own set of house policies. They can vary depending on the type of venue and the risk factor associated with the venue; for example, a house policy will differ from a football stadium to a bowls club to a nightclub.

A comprehensive house policy should include the following topics and provisions:

- | | |
|---|---|
| ✚ Responsible Service of Alcohol | ✚ Staff Training |
| ✚ Management of Minors | ✚ Promotions |
| ✚ Management of Unduly Intoxicated & Disorderly | ✚ Noise & Amenity of the neighborhood |
| ✚ Security | ✚ Consultation with the local community |
| ✚ Responsibly Hospitality Practices | ✚ Specific conditions for the venue |

An example of a House Policy is found in Appendix A, also refer to the Helpful Links for additional examples.

House policies should be provided to you at induction and be available for reference at any time. It is essential for you to understand the House Policy of each venue you work in. It is important to note that these policies are additional to the regulations and apply specific to your venue.

13.0 Staff Training

Training helps to ensure staff are aware of their responsibilities, potential penalties, and policies and practices specific to their workplace.

The effective training of staff is essential. Staff need to understand responsible service of alcohol strategies if these strategies are to be successful.

It also develops an increase in job knowledge and skills and therefore leads to greater confidence in their job roles.

RSA training in Queensland is mandatory for any employee, including the licensee (if an individual), to complete the RSA training within 30 days of starting employment. The licensee is responsible for ensuring staff are appropriately trained.

13.1 RSA training statements or certificates must be made available

Licensees must keep copies of course certificates or statement of attainments.

These must be made available for inspection by a compliance officer with the Office of Liquor and Gaming Regulation (OLGR) or a member of the Queensland Police Service (QPS).

A register is not required for RSA training.

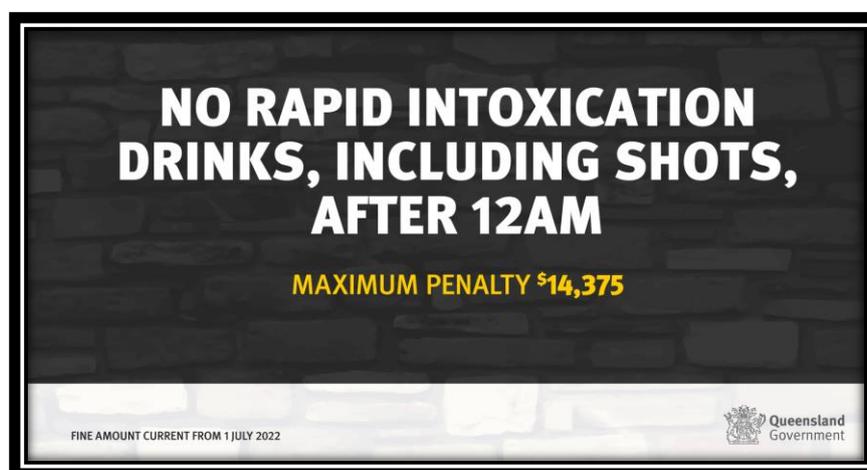

14.0 Penalties and Fines for breaching the law

Non-compliance of liquor laws and regulations or government or industry driven codes of practice or conduct can have serious ramifications for the licensed venue and extend to personal implications for the person selling or serving alcohol. Penalties can be imposed on staff, the licensee, manager, and/or customers for breaching the rules of the Liquor Act.

Breaching liquor laws, regulations or conditions can result in offences and penalties that may include substantial fines, a reduction in licensed trading hours and suspension or cancellation of the liquor license. (Penalties current as at the 7 July 22).

Requiring the licensee to pay the Office of Liquor and Gaming Regulation an amount of money not exceeding $10,000 per ground. Requiring the licensee to undertake the licensee's course within a stated period. Reprimanding the licensee

15.0 The importance of signage

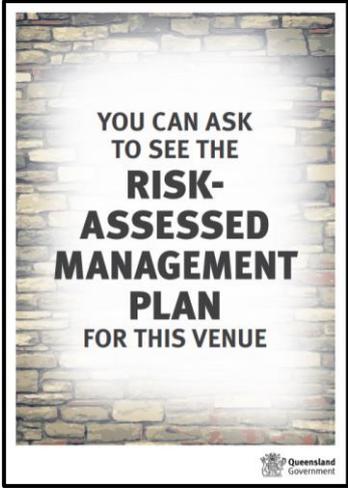

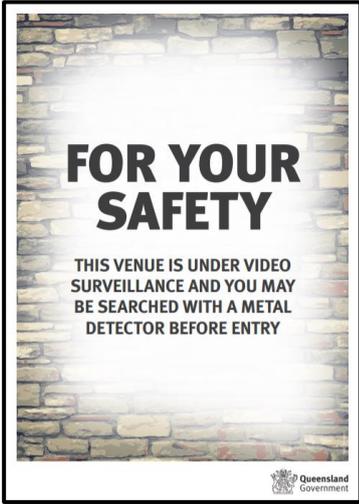

The law requires signage to be displayed both inside and out the venue or event and are a great tool to help minimise harm.

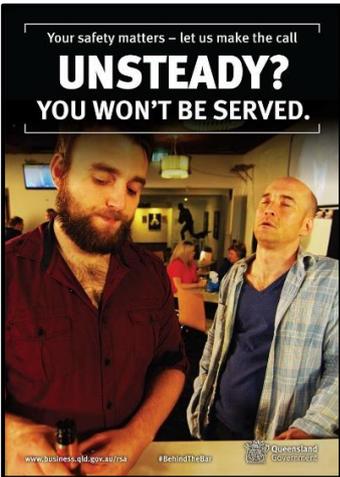

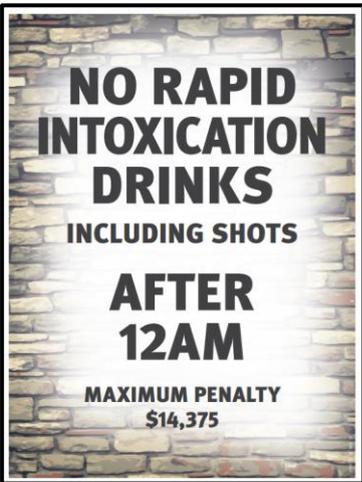

Signs are useful for notifying staff and patrons of their legal requirements and fines for breaking liquor laws. The Office of Liquor Gaming and Regulation (OLGR) encourages the use of the signage provided in your venue to tell patrons what is expected of them and what patrons expect from you whilst on the licensed premises. You can also convey to patrons and staff clearly and effectively that you support your staff in refusing service; and you can point out these signs when enforcing responsible service of alcohol laws.

Under the Liquor Act 1992, venues must display the following mandatory signs, must be kept on the licensed premises and be shown to any Office of Liquor and Gaming Regulation (OLGR) compliance officer or police officer who inspect your premises and asks to see it. If your licence document is destroyed or misplaced, you must apply for a replacement licence and pay the relevant fee.

Mandatory Signage	Purpose
Liquor Licence/Permit Details	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ Premises name and number ✚ Licensee name ✚ Address of the premises ✚ License area description ✚ Permitted trading hours ✚ Trading conditions
RAMP Sign	This sign advises patrons of their right to see the venue's risk-assessment management plan (RAMP) – this is the outline of the House Policy.
ID Scanning collection notice	If your venue is a regulated premises for ID scanning purpose, you must display a summary of your privacy policy at or near the entrance to the venue to allow patrons to read it before entering the premises.
CCTV in use Sign	You must display this sign to advise patrons that closed-circuit televisions (CCTV) equipment is in use at the premises.

Signs help to educate the community about drinking responsibly. They also serve as reminders for staff. A large range of posters is available for free download from Business Queensland. There include the mandatory signs, and also posters covering rules and information about serving minors, refusal of service, noise restrictions, BYO and safety.

16.0 Proof of Age

It is critical that venues focus on properly checking proof of age documents to prevent minors from accessing alcohol. Examining ID with scrutiny is essential; simply checking an ID will not protect you or the staff from prosecution if the person in the photo is very different from the person presenting the ID. Best practice for harm minimisation should include:

- ✚ Requiring any person appearing under 25 years of age to produce proof of age ID.
- ✚ Requiring close scrutiny to check authenticity of the ID.
- ✚ Only accepting forms of ID recognised by QLD liquor laws.
- ✚ Requesting a second form of ID when in doubt.

All ID must be current with a photograph of the person and date of birth

Photo identification card or Adult proof of age card
Passport (From any country)

Form of ID	Details
Digital ID	 Apps can be downloaded to verify each digital ID and they currently have security features to verify them; including a QR code and a 'shake-to-animate' feature to animate the screen and display the time and date to show that the licence is not a screenshot.
A recognised proof of age care such as Keypass Card issued by Australia Post
Foreign drivers' licence*	 If it is not in English, the licence holder should show an International Driver Permit from the foreign country which includes a photo and translation together with their foreign driver licence. Must have a photo and date of birth.
Expired Queensland driver license and renewal receipts	Individuals who have renewed their licence but are waiting for their new licence to arrive in the post, can use their expired driver licence for scanning or ID checking, however, the licence must be presented along with a Department of Transport and Main Roads (DTMR) Driver Licence Renewal Receipt.

16.1 Accepting other forms of ID concerns

You may accept other form of ID. However, if another form of ID is accepted, if an offence occurs, the court may not accept that there was an honest and reasonable belief that the minor concerned was 18 years or over.

16.2 Checking ID, using scanners and confiscation of fake ID

16.2.1 ID Scanning at licensed premises

Licensees in Safe Night Precincts (SNP) are required to operate ID scanners to each entry to their licensed premises (unless exempt). In this case, ID must be scanned when the customer first enters the licensed venue.

Licensees of venues where they are not required to scan ID may still choose to operate scanners as a security measure.

Networked ID scanners cross-check ID with a database of individuals who have been banned by the course, Queensland Police Service or a licensee.

16.2.2 Checking ID

Always use good manners and show respect. Check your house policy rules regarding ID checking. To ensure you don't miss a false hard copy ID as well as making sure you are complying with the liquor laws.

Checking ID:

- ✚ Ask patron to remove ID from wallets and purses of inspection.
- ✚ Take the ID card from the patron and examine in a well-lit area where any tampering/alteration will be obvious and take your time to examine it.
- ✚ Feel around the photo, birth date and edges of the card, look for anything unusual.
- ✚ Check for any smudges or possible blurring of the typed date of birth.
- ✚ Check the birth date and the ID and confirm the patron is over 18 years.
- ✚ Look at the photograph and ensure it matches the patron presenting the ID.
- ✚ Check the eye colour and height are correct, when noted on the ID.
- ✚ Note the built-in security features for each ID card.
- ✚ Verify the personal details by asking the person to state some details from the ID (e.g., address, year, and month of birth).
- ✚ Where necessary, ask the person to sign their name on a blank piece of paper which can then be compared with signatures of their ID.
- ✚ Be extra alert to ID marked as 'duplicate' or of a type you are less familiar with.
- ✚ You should not assume another person has checked the patron's ID. All staff should be able to identify the security features of each type of ID.

To check a digital ID:

- ✚ Compare the photo with the person presenting the ID, ensuring they are the same.
- ✚ Check that the date of birth confirms the person is over 18 years.
- ✚ Identify the security features of each type of ID (e.g. shake to animate, QR code or refreshing of the security features) and use appropriate verification methods.

Always Remember:

- ✚ If you have any doubts about the person being at least 18 years, refuse entry and refuse service.

16.2.3 Confiscating ID

It is illegal for a person to try to enter a licensed premises or be supplied alcohol using false personal identification (ID). You may like to get a second opinion from another staff member or management if you suspect the ID is fake.

You must then refuse entry and follow the steps for dealing with the fake ID.

You must confiscate hard copy ID produced to you, only if the person is falsely representing themselves as over 18 and the ID:

- ✚ Appears to have been tampered with
- ✚ Is a genuine ID but does not belong to the person attempting entry or the supply of alcohol

You must not confiscate a device on which you suspect a fake digital ID is used, in this case, record the details of the false ID as follows.

16.2.4 What to do with a fake ID in Queensland

Fake ID's must be reported by completing an ID confiscation report and submitted to OLGR. This applies to suspected fake ID in both digital and hard copy forms. The report form can be found <https://www.publications.qld.gov.au/dataset/liquor-licensing-and-compliance-forms/resource/8536f7dd-7bcc-47a4-9d14-6dfbf6030e6c>

Confiscated hard copy ID must be sent in with the ID confiscated report. The true owner of a genuine ID will be able to reclaim their ID by contacting OLGR.

17.0 Categories of people we can't serve Alcohol to

17.1 Minors

The legal age of drinking in Queensland is 18 years. It is illegal for any person to supply alcohol to a minor in a licensed premise. It is also illegal for a minor to be on a licensed premise to purchase, receive or consume alcohol. The legal drinking age is set to minimise harm to young people as they generally lack experience in dealing with the effects of alcohol and their internal organs have not finished developing.

It is vital that management and staff are on top of their obligations around minors to reduce potential harm in the community.

17.1.2 Minors & Licensed Premises

It is illegal for under 18's (minors) to be on a licensed premises. However, there are exceptions to this requirement:

An 'exempt minor' is a person under the age of 18 who is permitted on licensed premises in particular circumstances or for a particular reason. They must never consume or be supplied with liquor.

Circumstances for exempt minors include:

- ✚ A resident on the premises.
- ✚ Working as an employee or receiving training or work experience at the premises.
- ✚ Attending a function such as a wedding or party at the premises.
- ✚ Eating a meal or is accompanied by a responsible adult who is supervising the minor. This does not apply after 5pm under a nightclub licence. Then the minor is not exempt and must not remain on the premises.
- ✚ On the premises for a purpose, and in circumstance, approved by the commissioner for Liquor and Gaming or stated in a condition of the licence or permit.
- ✚ The premises have a licence in one of these categories, community club licence, community other licence, or restricted liquor permit, and neither the conditions of the licence of permit nor the club rules prevent the minors presence.

17.1.3 Responsible Adults (Minors & Licensed Premises)

Minors are allowed on licensed premises with a responsible adult. You will need to use your judgement on who can be considered a responsible adult. Your house policy may provide guidance in making this decision, if you are not sure speak with your supervisor for assistance.

It is essential that you understand the definition of a responsible adult:

A 'responsible adult' is:

- ✚ A parent
- ✚ A Step-parent or guardian
- ✚ An adult who has parental rights, duties, responsibilities, in relation to the minor.
- ✚ The person who makes the adult decisions on behalf of the minor.

Example of 'responsible adult':

- ✚ An 18-year-old adult with a 17-year-old spouse, partner or sibling would not be making parental decision on the minors' behalf.
- ✚ A 20-year-old adult with a 10-year-old brother or sister may be a responsible adult.

A responsible adult must also actively supervise the minor and MUST NOT be unduly intoxicated or disorderly.

'Responsible supervisor', again you need to use your own judgement when deciding if a responsible adult is providing 'responsible supervision'. Some things to consider are whether the adult is showing signs of intoxication and if the adult is staying close enough to the minor to adequately supervise.

A responsible adult may provide alcohol to a minor in a private setting. However, supplying alcohol to a minor when you are not the responsible adult or not providing responsible supervision, is illegal.

17.2 Unduly Intoxicated

Legal definition of 'unduly intoxicated'

The Liquor Act states:

9A When a person may be taken to be unduly intoxicated

For this Act, a person may be taken to be unduly intoxicated if—

1. the person's speech, balance, coordination or behaviour is noticeably affected; and
2. there are reasonable grounds for believing the affected speech, balance, coordination or behaviour is the result of the consumption of liquor, drugs or another intoxicating substance.

Signs of intoxication vary between individuals. There are many indicators what can help you assess if a person is unduly intoxicated.

You may observe the amount of alcohol a person has been consuming, although it is possible that a person has consumer alcohol, or other substances, prior to entering your premises.

Where there are signs of intoxication and the cause is not known, the persons attendance at the licensed premises to obtain alcohol is considered reasonable grounds for believing the signs of intoxication are due to the consumption of the alcohol, drugs or another intoxicating substance.

Where there are signs of a possible disability it is very important to speak with the person in a respectful way to ascertain if they may be affected by other conditions which share some of the signs of intoxication. For example, a person may have a mental or physical condition which influences their speech, movement or behaviour. Having a conversation with the person may help you to avoid taking action which could be considered discriminatory.

Guideline 58: Unduly intoxicated, provides more information to help you make this decision

<https://www.business.qld.gov.au/industries/hospitality-tourism-sport/liquor-gaming/liquor/liquor-guidelines/unduly-intoxicated>

Once a person is identified as being unduly intoxicated the venue has a duty of care to ensure they are able to leave the premises safely. This could include helping identify suitable public transport or calling a taxi and allowing the person to wait inside the premises until transport arrives.

Early identification of erratic drinking behaviours and intervention could help you to avoid a much more difficult situation later when the person is unduly intoxicated and less in control of their own behaviours.

Examples of erratic drinking may include:

- ✚ Mixing a wide range of drink types
- ✚ Drinking quick and asking for more immediately
- ✚ Ordering more than one drink for own consumption
- ✚ Mixing alcohol consumption with consumption of prescription or illicit drugs
- ✚ Consistently returning to the tasting site to request more samples
- ✚ Ordering multiple samples
- ✚ Ordering large samples
- ✚ Ordering 'triple shots' or extra -large drinks

How to provide assistance to an unduly intoxicated person:

The venue is obligated to assist the patron once we refuse service. This is so they don't injure themselves or bother other customers. We do this by:

- ✚ Offer them water
- ✚ Assist them to get a lift from the venue
- ✚ Sit them within somewhere within your line of sight
- ✚ Have security keep an eye on them
- ✚ Suggest they have something to eat
- ✚ Assist them to a taxi or uber
- ✚ Note: they are allowed to stay on the premises for a reasonable amount of time

Potential signs and behaviours of intoxication:

- ✚ Slurred speech
- ✚ Cannot walk straight
- ✚ Glassy eyed
- ✚ Fumbling with their phone and money
- ✚ Leaning on the bar to hold them up
- ✚ Doesn't hear or respond to conversations
- ✚ Falls asleep

17.3 Disorderly

Meaning of 'disorderly' behaviour

Disorderly behaviour is behaviour of an unruly nature that is contrary to public order or expectations. In simple terms, disorderly behaviour is behaviour that disturbs or interferes, or has the intention to disturb or interfere, with the comfort of others in a public setting, including in and around licensed venues. Examples of such behaviour include, but are not limited to:

- obnoxious behaviour
- behaviour that poses a safety risk to the person or others
- physical and verbal acts of aggression or violence
- indecent acts
- harassment
- offensive actions.

Note: While disorderly behaviour can be an indication of undue intoxication, a person does not need to be affected by liquor or other intoxicating substances in order to be disorderly.

It is important to remember that a disorderly person may not be intoxicated. Disorderly persons must not be allowed to consume alcohol and must be warned about their behaviour. It is an offence for a person to be disorderly on licensed premises. If you ask a person to leave for disorderly, they must leave immediately.

If they refuse to leave or re-enter after being asked to leave the licensee or staff may use necessary and reasonable force to remove them.

A licensee may choose to allow a disorderly person to remain at the premises after warning them if they then behave appropriately.

17.4 Refusal of Service

Be polite and respectful. Follow the house rules. Be specific regarding the reasons for refusal and steps taken to determine the cause when you fill in the logbook or incident report.

Licensees and staff may refuse service because the:

- ✚ Law requires it
- ✚ Safety of the person is at risk from the consumption of alcohol
- ✚ Safety of others is at risk from individuals consumption of alcohol
- ✚ Licensee considers it warranted
- ✚ A licensee may also ban people from the premises

Refusal of service must not be discriminatory.

Follow these five points for effective refusal of service:

Effective refusal of service techniques:

- ✚ Observe
- ✚ Engage
- ✚ Assess
- ✚ Have a Plan
- ✚ Provide a Solution

Note: Be sure to let management, security and other staff know who you refused service to.

18.0 What is a Standard Drink?

Staff should provide assistance to customers, encouraging them to drink within safe and appropriate limits.

In Australia, one standard drink contains 10 grams of alcohol. This means the number of standard drinks consumed is dependent on the alcohol content and the serving size.

The term 'standard drink' should not be confused with a serving of alcohol, which is often much larger e.g., a standard drink of wine is about 100ml of wine, whereas a glass of wine served on licensed premises is usually at least 130ml – 150ml.

To keep track of how much alcohol has been consumed, the number of standard drinks consumed should be counted, not the number of glasses or containers that have been consumed.

Quantifying alcohol in terms of standard drinks helps individuals and staff to monitor the amount of alcohol consumed. Packed alcohol will say how many standard drinks are in the container. Glasses and jugs should be marked to show the volume they contain, and wine glasses should show a line for a standard pour. Spirits should be in fixed quantities of 15 or 30ml. This helps customers understand the quantities they are consuming and is extremely important if the patron needs to drive a vehicle.

For drinks served over the bar it is not always so easy to understand how many standard drinks are in a serve. Bar staff need to fully understand how to determine the number of standard drinks in any given serve and to be able to inform customers of the number of standard drinks for each type and size of drink they serve them.

A standard drink contains 10 grams of pure alcohol. Alcoholic drinks often contain more than one standard drink.

Labels on alcoholic beverages display the amount of standard drinks and alcohol content (%) each specific drink contains. This guide gives an average alcohol content of a range of alcoholic drinks as provided by the National Health & Medical Research Council. To find the exact alcohol content check the label.

18.1 Three ways to determine how many standard drinks in a serve.

Determine the number of standard drinks:

Refer to the label – Alcohol packaging must state the number of standard drinks in the container.

Use an online calculator:

- ✚ <http://yourroom.health.nsw.gov.au/games-and-tools/Pages/standard-drink-calculator.aspx>
- ✚ <http://www.drinkthing.twas.gov.au/calculator>
- ✚ <http://www.rupissed.com/standard-drinks-calculator.html>

Calculate it yourself – Calculate how many standard drinks are in a serve:

- ✚ Take the volume in liters (355ml = 0.355L)
- ✚ Multiply by the percentage of alcohol (4.5%)
- ✚ Multiply by the density of alcohol at room temperature which is ALWAYS 0.789
- ✚ $0.355 \times 4.5 \times 0.789 = 1.26$ (always round up)
- ✚ Equals 1.3 Standard Drinks

19.0 Practices and promotions of alcohol in a licensed venue

You are required by law to encourage responsible drinking when serving, supplying, and promoting alcohol at your licensed venue. Promotions associated with the service, supply or consumption of liquor must be compatible with minimising harm.

19.1 Practices that encourage responsible drinking at the venue

- ✚ Having non-alcoholic and low alcohol beverage available
- ✚ Supplying alcohol in standardised quantities can be recognised by patrons such as serving spirits in nips, using glasses or jugs with measured quantities, and supply alcohol in labelled pre-packed containers.
- ✚ Serving patrons half measures of spirits on request.

19.2 Practices that minimising harm when running promotions

- ✚ Providing free food and water to patrons
- ✚ Offering alternatives non-acholic beverages
- ✚ Limiting the number of drinks that can be purchased on each visit to the bar
- ✚ Monitoring for and managing against stockpiling of drinks
- ✚ Limiting the duration of the promotion while also ensuring that this does not result in patrons drinking more rapidly within that period.
- ✚ Employing additional staff to monitor the consumption of alcohol during this time.

- ✚ Limiting the duration of the promotion
- ✚ Placing limits of the number of drinks any one person can purchase during the promotion.

19.3 Acceptable promotions

- ✚ Karaoke or trivia night
- ✚ Happy Hour (within limitations)
- ✚ Incentives for staff to promote a different brand.

19.4 Guideline 60: Unacceptable liquor practices and promotions in licensed venues

Guideline 60: Unacceptable liquor practices and promotions in licensed venues

Liquor Act 1992 – Part 6, Division 1AA, Section 142ZZ
Liquor Regulation 2002 – Section 41

1. Introduction

The responsible service, supply and promotion of liquor at licensed premises is critical to achieving the main purposes of the Liquor Act 1992 \(PDF, 1.97MB\). This includes minimising harm and potential harm from alcohol abuse, misuse and associated violence.

The Liquor Act does not seek to prevent licensees (and permittees) from engaging in activities to encourage and maintain patronage. However, any practices or promotions associated with the service, supply or consumption of liquor must be undertaken responsibly and in a way that is compatible with minimising harm.

Certain types of practices and promotions are unacceptable as a result of the potential harm they may cause and are prohibited by the Liquor Act.

According to the Liquor Act some practices and promotions can be deemed Unacceptable and are highlighted in Guideline 60: Unacceptable liquor practices and promotions in licensed venues; this can found at the following <https://www.business.qld.gov.au/industries/hospitality-tourism-sport/liquor-gaming/liquor/training/rsa/refresher/promotions-practices/illegal-unacceptable>

The following practices and promotions are deemed unacceptable if they:

- ✚ Encourage irresponsible drinking of alcohol (e.g. 'last man standing' or 'beat the clock')
- ✚ Discourage a patron from monitoring or controlling the amount of alcohol they drink.
- ✚ Involve pouring or shooting alcoholic drinks straight into patrons' mouths (e.g. 'laybacks').
- ✚ Are likely to have a special appeal to children (e.g. use of designs, names, motifs or characters that are likely to be attractive to children).
- ✚ Are indecent or offensive (e.g. wet t-shirt competitions and use of discriminatory, demanding, provocative or vilifying language or imagery).
- ✚ Use emotive descriptions that are likely to encourage irresponsible drinking.
- ✚ Include providing free drinks, or providing drinks at discounts, in a way that encourages patrons to drink alcohol more rapidly than they would otherwise do.
- ✚ Are defined by the Liquor Regulations 2002 as an unacceptable practice or promotion (e.g. providing alcohol to a patron while holding their bank card on account, pending payment).

19.5 Promotions in the BCC (Brisbane City Council)

Alcohol promotions and happy hours

Licensees must conduct alcohol promotions and 'happy hours' in a responsible manner.

Prohibited happy hour activities that exist in the BCC area include:

- a happy hour that is more than 2 hours between 7am and 9pm
- a happy hour that is more than 1 hour between 9pm and 1am
- a happy hour or part of a happy hour after 1am
- more than 1 happy hour on a day, without at least 1 hour between the end of each happy hour and the start of the following happy hour
- a happy hour that starts before 9pm and ends after 9pm.

20.0 Preserving the amenity

Amenity is the pleasantness, attractiveness, or utility of the neighborhood.

Preserving amenity involves protecting the neighborhood from unruly behaviour or crime from patrons as they make their way to and from the premises. It also involves minimising the impact of noise from the venue or patrons. For example, if patrons are allowed to congregate outside late at night the noise could disrupt the amenity of the neighborhood.

Other consideration include:

- ✚ Prevention and removal of litter in the area around the premises
- ✚ Cleanliness of surrounding areas
- ✚ Provisions of adequate and clean toilets at the venue
- ✚ Removing empty glasses and bottles quickly to reduce breakage.

Providing a safe environment and 'preserving amenity'

Under a new section of the Liquor Act 1992 (section 142ZZB), a licensee or permittee must provide and maintain a safe environment in and around the premises and take all reasonable steps to ensure:

- use of the premises does not adversely affect the amenity of the nearby area
- behaviour of persons entering or leaving the premises does not adversely affect the amenity of the nearby area
- relevant offences in or around the premises are prevented where the licensee or permittee knows or has reason to believe the offence is being or about to be committed.

21.0 Australian Drinking Standards

Alcohol affects everyone and is never completely safe. Following the Australian Guidelines to Reduce Health Risks from Drinking Alcohol can reduce your risk of harm. The less you drink the lower your risk. Choosing not to drink at all may be the safest options.

For those who choose to drink alcohol the Australian Government provides the following information:

The Guidelines.

Have no more than 10 standard drinks a week to reduce your risk of cancers, including breast, stomach and bowel, and have no more than 4 standard drinks in one day to reduce your risk of injury and accidents.

Anyone under 18 should not drink alcohol to help prevent negative impacts on the developing brain and riskier levels of drinking when they are older.

Women who are pregnant or breastfeeding should not drink alcohol to reduce harm to their baby.

22.0 Blood Alcohol Concentration and limits (QLD)

22.1 Blood Alcohol Concentration (BAC)

In Australia the legal drink drive and drive limit is a Blood Alcohol Concentration (BAC) of 0.05. For learners and probationary drivers, there is a no drink no driving limit – your BAC must be 0.00 (zero).

According to experts, there is no safe level of alcohol consumption for driving. Even at just 0.05 BAC you are twice as likely to crash while driving than you do not drink at all (DrinkWise Australia).

At 0.08, you are five (5) times more likely to have a crash than when completely sober, and at 0.08 – 0.12 BAC, you are ten (10) times more likely to have a car accident (DrinkWise Australia).

Blood alcohol Concentration (BAC) is the amount of alcohol in a person's blood expressed as a percentage. Blood alcohol limits for driving and operating heavy machinery may vary in different states. If you are working in another state, you should familiarise yourself with the limits for that state or territory. Some workplaces, notably the transport and mining industries have their own strict policies on BAC.

22.2 Driving limits (QLD)

Licence Class	Legal blood alcohol concentration (BAC)
Holder of a learner, P1/P2 provisional or probationary licence (regardless of age).	0.00 (no alcohol limit)
Holder of an open licence.	Below 0.05 (general alcohol limit)
Holder of a licence when driving, or in charge of, a truck, bus, articulated motor vehicle, taxi, limousine, tow truck, public passenger vehicle or any driver supervising a learner driver.	0.00 (no alcohol limit)

23.0 Ask for Angela – Club Safety Campaign

Ask for Angela is a patron safety campaign that initially began in pubs and clubs in Lincolnshire, England, and has now spread globally. The campaign is for patrons that feel vulnerable, unsafe or uncomfortable and concerned with their safety due to the company they are with when they are in a club.
